Incident: Business Emergency Contact
Information

Location: Various Locations

Date/Time: January 23, 2014

Details: In December, 2013, the Newport Police Department sent a letter to business owners in Newport in an effort to update records of emergency contact information for their businesses.

The information provided by businesses helps the Newport Police Department identify parties responsible for businesses and property. In the event of an emergency, accurate information saves valuable time and energy.

As part of the project, Newport Police Volunteers will be contacting businesses over the next several weeks to collect completed forms, and to distribute forms to businesses that did not receive one.

If you are a business owner and did not receive a business emergency contact information form, please visit the Newport Police Department, located within Newport City Hall.

The Newport Police Department would like to thank the Newport business community for assisting in making our services more efficient.
